So, buying a cheap and cheerful vacuum might seem like a great idea at the time, but it could leave you with disappointing results. Then again, you don't want to be paying more than you need for an appliance that - ultimately - simply sucks up dirt from the floors. The trick is finding the vacuum that ticks both the effectiveness and value for money boxes. So, which brands do Aussies rate highest in both regards? Our customer ratings have the answer. Once again, we've surveyed more than 2,900 households and sought out their opinions on the vacuum cleaners they've purchased and used in the last three years. An emerging theme from our reviews and ratings over the years is that typically the more 'premium' brands are coming up trumps, but this year is a little different, with iRobot Roomba and Bosch sharing the top spot. That's a fantastic achievement in a competitive market where we're even seeing the likes of Kmart and ALDI offering solid alternatives to the big name brands. But Aussies who own an iRobot Roomba or Bosch vacuum are clearly the happiest of the lot. Both brands scored five stars for overall satisfaction. Best Vacuum Cleaners Here are the best vacuum cleaners in Australia, as rated by consumers in Canstar Blue's latest review. iRobot (Roomba) & Bosch Miele LG Bissell Samsung Piranha Dyson Electrolux Black & Decker Philips Hoover Beko Vax Kmart Kogan iRobot and Bosch vacuums were rated best in Canstar Blue's latest ratings, achieving five-star reviews for overall customer satisfaction. iRobot (Roomba) also rated best for ease of use and storage, while Bosch got full marks for quietness and value for money. Several other brands also managed to score five stars in the bang for buck category including Miele, Piranha and Black & Decker. Notably, former winner Miele was the only brand to score five-star reviews for effectiveness of clean and Samsung got the only top marks for ease of emptying. These ratings are based on all types of vacuum cleaners - from small handheld vacuums for your car, to robot vacuums and large barrel vacuums that specialise in pet hair. We rate stick vacuum cleaners separately. Our review provides a helpful guide as to which vacuum cleaner could be the best bet for your needs and budget. Read on for a little more detail about each brand and what you can get for your money. We'll also name-drop some other brands that don't feature in this year's review but are still worth a mention. Top Vacuum Cleaner Brands iRobot iRobot is the brand behind the ever-famous Roomba robot vacuum and mop range, boasted for its new levels of cleaning intelligence and efficiency to your home. The new Roomba s9+ is the smartest model of the Roomba family featuring automatic emptying and smart mapping technology which learns, maps and adapts to each room to give you control of which parts of the house you want to be vacuumed first. Prices for the Roomba s9+ reach up to $2,899, while prices for iRobot Roomba 600 series models start from $499. Bosch Another brand boasting a reputation for German quality, Bosch provides a range of vacuum cleaners, including cordless stick and cylinder vacuums (bagged & bagless units). Some common features you'll find in the Bosch handstick line-up include the All Floor High Power Brush, claimed to deliver a thorough clean, plus 2-in-1 functionality to give you a handheld and handstick vacuum cleaner in one appliance. The Bosch Athlet ProAnimal and most other Athlet stick vacuums are boasted for having one of the longest runtimes, of up to 60 minutes. Other aspects include Bosch's SmartSensor technology, which is stated to monitor airflow rates throughout the vacuum to ensure the suction performance doesn't drop and an LED indicator to notify you if the filters get clogged. Most Bosch vacuums can be had for less than $900, with some of its models being priced as low as $250. Bosch's range includes: Bosch ProPower Bagged Vacuum Cleaner (BGL3PWERAU): $249 RRP* Bosch Athlet Handstick Vacuum Cleaner (BCH6AT25AU): $399 RRP* Bosch Serie 6 Rechargeable Stick Cordless Vacuum Cleaner (BCS61113AU): $399 RRP* Bosch ProAnimal Bagless Vacuum Cleaner (BGS5ZOOAU): $499 RRP* Bosch received five stars for quietness, value for money and overall satisfaction. It got four stars for effectiveness, ease of emptying, ease of use and ease of storage. Miele Miele makes cylinder vacuum cleaners (bagged & bagless models), upright vacuums and even an array of robot vacuum cleaners. Its range comes in a variety of sizes and colours to suit most domestic duties and homes. Miele is not generally known for offering gimmicky features, instead focusing on 'tried and true' ingenuity and German engineering, with predictably efficient results. The Miele CX1 Blizzard Cat & Dog Bagless Vacuum Cleaner is specifically targeted at pet owners. It features Vortex technology for powerful cleaning and a maintenance-free HEPA AirClean Lifetime Filter, said to retain up to 99.95% of allergens and fine dust, according to Miele. Miele's upright vacuum range starts from around $600 and its cylinder models start at about $350, but some cost closer to $1,000, including Miele's robot vacuums. Several Miele vacuum cleaners include: Miele Blizzard CX1 Excellence PowerLine (SKCR3): $679 RRP* Miele Complete C3 Cat & Dog PowerLine Cylinder Vacuum Cleaner (SGE43): $779 RRP* Miele Triflex HX1 Runner Cordless Stick Upright Vacuum Cleaner (SMUL5): $999 RRP* Miele Triflex HX1 Pro Cordless Stick Upright Vacuum Cleaner (SMML0): $1,199 RRP* Miele scored five stars for effectiveness of clean and value for money, plus four stars for quietness, ease of emptying and ease of use. It got three stars for ease of storage. LG LG specialises in stick and robot vacuums, with the range featuring different smart features, capacities and colours. LG's range focuses on a combination of technical excellence and user-friendliness to help make cleaning easy. All units are cordless and battery-powered, giving you the freedom of movement. The LG A9 stick vacuum comes with a dual power pack, which provides up to 40 minutes of runtime per battery. It's boasted for its ergonomic design with a telescopic pipe able to be adjusted to four different lengths as well as its Opti-balanced handle. Its handstick range is moderately priced, from $799 to $1,299. LG's vacuum range features: LG Powerful Cordless Handstick With AEROSCIENCE Technology (A9N-PRIME): $839 RRP* LG Powerful Cordless Handstick With AEROSCIENCE Technology (A9N-MULTI): $959 RRP* LG Powerful Cordless Handstick With Power Drive Mop & Kompressor Technology (A9K-ULTRA): $1,299 RRP* LG Powerful Robotic Vacuum (R9MASTER): $1,799 RRP* LG was rated four stars for effectiveness of clean, ease of use, quietness, value for money and overall satisfaction. Its high-end stick vac range is currently made up of several 'Jet' models, retailing between $729 and $1,129, offering up to 200W of power suction, a quoted 60-minute runtime and various accessories, including a mopping and hardfloor tool to make vacuuming feel less of a chore. Samsung's POWERBot is equally impressive, featuring Wi-Fi connectivity, an Edge Clean function for corners, self-cleaning brush and other nifty features worth the splurge. Samsung's vacuum cleaner range includes: Samsung Jet 70 Pet Vacuum Cleaner (VS15T7032R1/SA): $599 RRP* Samsung Jet 70 Pro Stick Vacuum (VS15T7035R5/SA): $699 RRP* Samsung Jet 90 Pet Vacuum Cleaner (VS20R9042T2/SA): $999 RRP* Samsung Jet 90 Complete Vacuum Cleaner (VS20R9046T3/SA): $1,099 RRP* Samsung achieved five stars for ease of emptying, and four stars in the remaining categories, including overall satisfaction. Piranha Piranha is a budget brand of home appliances, offering no-fuss vacuum cleaners for those looking to get a unit that just gets the job done. The brand is sold at various retailers including Big W and Kmart and online via Kogan. Piranha offers a select range of vacuums, comprising of two bagless models priced under $100. Both come with all the standard features you'd expect from an entry-level vac like a Multi-Cyclonic Filtration System, a washable filter, stainless steel telescopic tube and 2.5L+ dust bin capacity. Piranha's vacuum range includes these two models: Piranha Glow 2000W Vacuum Cleaner (YLC6243-H): $69 RRP* Piranha Royale 2400W Vacuum With Handheld Vacuum Cleaner (EV-826-S16): $99 RRP* Piranha was rated five stars for value for money and four stars for effectiveness and overall satisfaction. It got three stars for ease of use, ease of emptying and ease of storage, plus two stars for quietness. Dyson A vacuum cleaner specialist, Dyson makes a wide range of barrel, upright, handstick and handheld models. Often, categories are further differentiated by what an individual vacuum is said to specialise in. For example, there are Dyson vacuums for allergies and pet hair. Its barrel vacuums also boast a 'no-tip' feature, by using a clever rolling ball instead of wheels. Dyson is generally seen as a premium brand, with most models costing in excess of $500, while some cost $1,000 or more! Its latest addition - the Dyson V15 Detect - is boasted for its powerful suction power and up to 60 minutes of fade-free runtime, although comes with a retail price tag of $1,399 for the Total Clean model. Dyson's vacuum range includes: Dyson V7 Cordless Vacuum (248407-01): $399 RRP* Dyson V8 Animal Vacuum (369398-01): $699 RRP* Dyson Outsize Total Clean (371093-01): $1,299 RRP* Dyson V15 Detect Absolute Extra (369402-01): $1,449 RRP* Dyson scored four stars for effectiveness, ease of use, ease of emptying, ease of storage and overall satisfaction. It received three stars for quietness and value for money. Electrolux Electrolux makes a wide variety of rechargeable, canister, cordless and robotic vacuum cleaners. Most canister models feature powerful most also as specialised areas of expertise, such as pet hair, tough dust, and so on. Also in the range is the ‘Silent Performer’ series, which is claimed to be the quietest series in the Electrolux range. In terms of its rechargeable range, the brand’s 2-in-1 stick models are designed with detachable hand vacuums, ideal for taking care of small messes. Its Pure Q9 stick vacuum is the latest addition, boasted to combine the performance of a traditional vacuum cleaner with versatility. It provides up to 53 minutes of vacuuming and comes with a 3-in-1 smart tool to help clean all around the home. Models start at about $150 for the handheld varieties and around $250 for the canister vacuums, while the Electrolux PUREi9 Robot vac sits with a retail price tag of about $1,700. Electrolux’s models include: Electrolux WELL Q7 Reach Stick Vacuum Cleaner (WQ71-P501B); $349 RRP* Electrolux Ergorapido Allergy 18V Handstick Vacuum Cleaner (ZB3311); $379 RRP Electrolux Ergorapido Animal 18V Vacuum Cleaner (ZB3320P); $449 RRP* Electrolux Pure Q9 Cordless Vacuum (PQ92-3PGF); $749 RRP* Electrolux was rated four stars for effectiveness, ease of use, ease of emptying, value for money and overall satisfaction. It got three stars for quietness and ease of storage. Black & Decker Black & Decker brings forth several cordless handstick vacuums alongside handheld and barrel vacuums at the cheaper end of the spectrum. There are also a number of vacuums specifically designed for pet owners, such as the Black & Decker 27Wh Lithium-ion Cordless Pet Dustbuster Hand Vacuum, which features a specifically designed motorised pet head with rubber tines. The Black & Decker 45Wh 2-in-1 Cordless Multipower Allergy Vacuum is designed for allergy sufferers. It features a Dual HEPA filtration system claimed to trap up to 99.92% of dust particles, plus a runtime of up to 60 minutes with a charging time of six hours. It’s also equipped with a battery charge indicator and an LED light to illuminate the floor to help you see where you’ve vacuumed. Black & Decker vacuums can be had for around $100 to $400. Black & Decker’s range includes: Black & Decker Dustbuster Handheld Vacuum With Charging Base & Pet Extension: price not advertised* Black & Decker Cordless POWERSERIES Extreme Vacuum Cleaner: price not advertised* Black & Decker Lithium 4-in-1 Dustbuster: price not advertised* Black & Decker 36Wh Cordless Stick Vacuum: price not advertised* Black & Decker got five stars for value for money, plus four stars for effectiveness, quietness, ease of emptying and storage. It landed on three stars for ease of use and overall satisfaction. Philips Philips did offer bagged and bagless vacuums as well as wet hard floor cleaners and steam mops, however, most models featured on the brand’s website seem to be discontinued. Philips’ range includes: Philips PowerPro Active Bagless Vacuum (PC8632/72); $319 RRP* Philips was rated four stars for ease of use, effectiveness, ease of storage and quietness. It got three stars for value for money and overall satisfaction. Hoover The brand that is now also a verb, Hoover makes a huge variety of bagged and bagless vacuums, plus handheld, handstick and robot vacuums. It even makes a range of cordless upright vacuums powered by lithium-ion batteries. For the really serious vacuum cleaner enthusiasts, there is also a backpack vacuum on offer to make it look like you’re operating a jetpack! The Hoover Hoover Zenith Stick Vacuum Cleaner is boasted for its digital brushless motor and motorised powered head, stated to provide an effective clean and offering up to 24 minutes of runtime. It also features LED lights, a three-stage filtration with an exhaust HEPA filter and four specialised accessories for hard-to-reach areas. Hoover prices start from about $50 for the most basic handheld varieties and reach up to $500. Hoover’s range features: Hoover Heritage Stick Vacuum (5210): $199 RRP* Hoover Eco Pets Turbo Bagless Vacuum Cleaner (3013): $299 RRP* Hoover Allergy Bagged Vacuum Cleaner (11120763): $599 RRP* Hoover Ranger Robot Vacuum (5241): $599 RRP* In this year’s review, Hoover rated four stars for ease of use, quietness, ease of emptying, and value for money. It got three stars in the remaining categories, including overall satisfaction. Beko Beko deals exclusively in bagless vacuum cleaners with only two models available, claimed to cater to all floor types. Beko’s cordless 2-in-1 rechargeable stick vacuum is kitted with two speed settings, up to 40 minutes’ worth of runtime and a PerformCyclone function to suck up fine and large dust particles off your floors and to help give your carpets a deeper clean, as well as those hard-to-reach spots. Meanwhile, Beko’s bagless corded vacuum features a HEPA 13 filter to remove up to 99.98% of fine particles from the air, a 10m operating radius and a 1550W high-power motor. Beko’s vacuum cleaner range includes: Beko 1550W Bagless Vacuum Cleaner (VCO6325FD): $199 RPP* Beko Practiclean 2-in-1 Handstick Vacuum Cleaner (VRT 82821 BV): $349 RRP* Beko received four stars for quietness and three stars everywhere else, including for overall satisfaction. Vax Vax is a specialist in vacuum cleaners and floor care. It makes a fairly concise range of upright, cordless, barrel and handheld vacuums. Many upright models are also cordless, affording you the ability to go wherever the mess and pet hair lead you. Many of Vax’s barrel vacuum cleaners feature big wheels, making them hard to tip over, and some also feature extra accessories to help eliminate pet hair. Vax’s range, on the whole, can be described as simple, yet powerful. With a retail price tag of about $300, the Vax Power 6 Barrel Vacuum Cleaner is designed with ‘Multi-cyclonic’ technology, stated to separate and trap debris in the dust chamber for reliable suction. For a cordless stick vacuum, the Vax Blade 2 Max (VX81), features a number of accessories and has a runtime of up to 45 minutes. The 2000W barrel models are available for less than $100, while most other model types are available for less than $300. Vax’s line-up includes: Vax Blade Cordless Handstick Vacuum Cleaner (VX60): $249 RRP* Vax Power 7 Pet Barrel Vacuum Cleaner (VX72): $249 RRP* Vax Blade Pet Pro Cordless Handstick Vacuum Cleaner (VX63): $299 RRP* Vax was rated four stars for ease of use, ease of emptying and value for money. It got three stars for overall satisfaction and everywhere else. Kmart The cheap and cheerful department store specialising in homewares and cheap electronics has a range of vacuums for Aussie consumers to choose from. Kmart has a fairly large range of budget-oriented vacuums, with upright, handheld, bagless barrel and bagged cylinder models currently on offer. It has also branched out to offer several cordless stick vacuum models, with most boasting a maximum runtime of 25 minutes. Prices start at just $13 for the wet & dry handheld vac, with most models costing less than $100. Its most expensive vacuum – the cordless stick vacuum with a 6V rechargeable lithium battery – has a price tag of $149 (although this model isn’t always available in-store). It features a 200W brushless motor and is designed with LED lights to help you see under couches and beds. You won’t necessarily sacrifice power with these cheap prices, as many models boast 2000W motors. However, you can’t expect the world, as Kmart vacuums are fairly basic in functionality and light on techy features in comparison to other brands. Kmart models include: Kmart Wet & Dry Vacuum Cleaner: $13 RRP* Kmart 2-in-1 Corded Stick Vacuum: $29 RRP* Kmart 2-in-1 Cordless Stick Vacuum: $69 RRP* Kmart 2400W Bagless Vacuum: $95 RRP* Kmart vacuums were rated three stars in all categories, including key factors such as effectiveness, ease of use, value for money and overall satisfaction. Kogan Kogan provides plenty of options in the vacuum department, from cordless stick designs to wet and dry units. There are also robot vacuums on offer, including the R10 that provides up to 60 minutes of working time. It features five cleaning modes, including a mopping function and is stated to have a disinfecting UV lamp and HEPA filters. Kogan’s range features: Kogan EasyClean R20 Robot Vacuum Cleaner & Mop: $89.99 RRP* Kogan SmarterHome G30 Robot Vacuum Cleaner & Mop: $189 RRP* Kogan Z11 Pro Cordless Stick Vacuum Cleaner: $239 RRP* Kogan C10 Cordless Stick Vacuum Cleaner: $409.99 RRP* Kogan rounded up the results with three stars in all categories, including for key factors such as effectiveness, ease of use, value for money and overall satisfaction.
