Christianword org prayer book

Christianword.org prayer book.

The Prayers book is several things. It is a guide to salvation for those who have not been born again. It teaches relationship with the Lord, verses just being good or religious. It also teaches on what to expect as a Christian, how to pray, drawing near to God, and how you can and should grow as a Christian.This is followed by prayers on many various topics which are written from the perspective that God is all powerful, that the scriptures are inerrant, and that the Word of God is alive and powerful. We believe that those who have faith in God and have been saved by the blood of Jesus can pray these prayers and expect to have what they have prayed for, whether it be forgiveness of sin, healing, deliverance from bondage, or any prayer that is in line with the truth of God's word.Thousands of people have testified to the blessings they have received from this book. To date we have mailed out over 2 million copies, have had 280,000 copies downloaded from the internet, and have had over 500,000 hits on our mobile download site. You may visit us at christianword.org for more information on printed copies. Some improvements and bug fixes. I was introduced to the little red prayer book in October 2015, by my Uncle while on vacation in Florida. I downloaded a copy and just printed it to add to my prayer rule. The prayers are so helpful. Especially when you say them out loud. The Spirit of the Lord has convicted me when reading some of these prayers. Especially the warfare prayers. I love that it says the things that I cannot think to say on my own. This book definitely provides the opportunity for praying, when you don't know what to pray for. I love this ministry and I think God for this ministry and the creators of this ministry. I pray you will continue to be blessed and that this prayer book will also bless you!! think I will order a few books to give away just as one of the other reviewers mention she did. *UPDATE: I am so blessed by the new "Favorites" and "Notes" features! I am happy to see them added. Thank you! This app is great and the prayers are phenomenal!!!!Original Review: I usually never write reviews, but the prayers in this app are so awesome and powerful I just had to share! I truly believe these prayers were inspired by God's Holy Spirit. They have helped me through the many ups and downs (especially downs) of life. I gave 4 stars instead of 5 because the app REALLY needs: 1) A Favorites Button - MOST IMPORTANT This would allow favorite prayers to be tagged and easily pulled up later. I have a set of prayers I like to read each morning, but have to keep scrolling back through all the prayers and finding each of them every day. 2) A Notes option - would love to be able to add some short personal notes with my thoughts on how each prayer applies in my life or even a personal prayer list (when praying for those who are sick,hurting,etc). 3) A Search option - to search for keywords in the prayers and even in my notes. Thank you for this app!!! All I can say is that this little red prayer book really helped me get through a hard time in my life and uplifted me and kept me positive and kept me smiling and also even help me become a better prayer warrior I just want to thank God above for sending his only son Jesus Christ who died for all of our sins.I pray and hope that you all that read this that it touched you in a way that helps you be a better person, friend a better sibling , a daughter and a better person all around thank you! Learn More App Support Privacy Policy A friend of mine waved me down in a parking lot to give me this book, and that makes me smile. I didn't even recognize her, as covered as we were in our covid-19 masks. She and her husband had a box of these books they wanted to give away. I'd asked who the author was over our Sunday School Zoom, and instead of answering, she came to give me a copy when she "happened" to see me out and about. Actually, she'd been about to mail it to me when she saw me.This is such a wild book that I hardly know how to review it. It has some powerful prayers in it, some good reminders of scripture, and praying for them, but it can also fall off into theological pitfalls from time to time. I love that the authors pray wholly-devoted-to-God prayers, that they jump in with both feet, so to speak. I feel like their hearts are right before God, and that they are right on so many things, and yet, and yet ... Well, I don't want to end up nitpicking this book, but usually I do end up rating a book more lowly that falls into the same misinterpretations of scripture. But I don't think the authors are aware of it. They are just praying wildly, and that makes me smile happily, even if they are perhaps a little uneducated as to the context of those scriptures. I would rate some of the book 5's and other parts of the book 2's, and although there's no good way to average it all, I'll give it a 3, because I can't give it a solid recommendation. I love that they put the "Are You Sure?" section first, about being sure whether or not you are a Christian. It's of prime importance, and I like that they want others to know, rather than pretending that everyone who reads their prayer book knows that Jesus died for their sins. They started out describing it a little slowly and gently, but they did a very good, very thorough job of it.I'll confess that I didn't read all these prayers. Not all of them pertain to me, or the situations we find ourselves in today. But it might be a good reference to have on hand for such occasions.The "He has given me the power to make wealth" prayer sounds like the prosperity gospel, or the health and wealth gospel than Christianity. I think, in context, the passage means more that when we make wealth, we should recognize that God gave us that ability, not that we're always going to be making wealth. After all, Agur prayed "give me neither poverty nor riches, feed me with the food that is needful for me, lest I be full and deny you and say, 'Who is the LORD?' or lest I be poor and steal and profane the name of my God." Proverbs 30:8b-9Similarly, I have problems with "Cancer, sugar diabetes, heart disease, sickness, afflictions, infections, or any other disease cannot enter my body." Believers do sometimes have these illnesses, no matter how earnestly they prayed. Even the Apostle Paul had his thorn in his flesh that God refused to remove. (2 Corinthians 12: 7-10)"Thy will be done ... in the earth as it is in heaven." I'm not sure that the authors got this section right in saying this means we should be like we will be in heaven in that we are free of illness, poverty, and oppression here on earth. I've always taken it to me that we should obey God here like others do there now.The book also speaks about "new aspects about God," but I have to consider: "Do not add to His words, lest He rebuke you and you be found a liar." - Proverbs 30:6I am not saying the authors are lying. I think they are too good-hearted for that, and I would give them the benefit of the doubt. But I am saying that we have to be very careful what we represent as coming from God.The part about angels guiding us: I'd rather have God Almighty Himself guiding me.Still, I loved these:"Heavenly Father, I thank You that no weapon formed against me shall prosper.""... Isaiah 54:13 that tells me my children shall be taught by the Lord and great shall be the peace of my children." Yes, please, Lord. "God, we know You are at work in our children's lives in ways we may never understand.""We know You are good from everlasting to everlasting.""I ask You to allow us to dwell in the secret place of the most High and to abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I thank You that You allow us to say that You are our Lord, our refuge, our fortress, and our God in Whom we can trust." Amen. That's about the third or fourth time that passage has come up recently for me."Heavenly Father, I would ask that You would destroy any evil that is coming against me, that You would encamp Your warring angels and chariots of fire all around me, according to 2 Kings 6:17-18. ...more
